MISS WHITNEY AND MR. RODERICK TOWER Young Sculptors Give Their Second Exhibition of Art

Work Is More Ambitious Than Last Year, but Somewhat Hard.

The "second exhibition" of the Young Scaptors' Society is being held at Gorham's, and possibly there is a gain this year in quality, but because of the corto a gain in sobriety, it is impossible to last year it was remarked that these young scuiptors were hard, not in the sense that Nietzche used the word, who nselled feroclous hardness, but the opposite unfeeling hardness that comes from unthinking. Now whatever cannot be achieved unfeelingly and for the young artist just starting out in life no greater danger can be conceived than a system that throttles the feeling. An artist, especially a young artist, had better be feroclously than mechanically calm.
